

*The Institute for Professionalism & Ethical Practice Faculty Fellows Humanism Series

Cultivating Humanism: Nurturing a Culture for Safe, Compassionate Healthcare

We invite you to join us for our formal launch!

Healthcare at the Crossroads: Maintaining Values and Meaning in Today's Healthcare Environment

A special presentation by Visiting Professor

William T. Branch, Jr., MD, MACP, FAACH
Carter Smith, Sr. Professor of Medicine,
Emory University School of Medicine

Thursday, September 14th
3:30 - 5:00 pm

Harvard Medical School
TMEC 328 Learning Studio
Tosteson Medical Education Center (TMEC)
260 Longwood Avenue

RSVP

The Faculty Fellows Humanism Series is designed to nurture values and to foster humanistic organizational cultures and learning environments. The series is a project of the Boston Children's Hospital / Harvard Faculty Education Fellowship in Medical Humanism and Professionalism, and the Faculty Fellowship for Leaders in Collaborative and Humanistic Interprofessional Education

William T. Branch, Jr., M.D, MACP, is Carter Smith, Sr. Professor of Medicine and Past Director of the Division of General Internal Medicine at Emory University School of Medicine. He was founding director of the Primary Care Residency at the Brigham and Women's Hospital in 1974, a key leader of the New Pathway project at Harvard Medical School, Coordinator of the 1st year Patient Doctor Course in 1988, and Director of the 3rd year Patient Doctor Course from 1989 -1995. At Emory, he directed the Division of Internal General Medicine for seventeen years. Dr. Branch is an internationally recognized leader and innovator in medical education. His special expertise relates to professionalism, medical humanism, doctor-patient communication, medical education, inter-professional education, and other topics related to the patient-doctor relationship.

To RSVP please visit: <http://ipepweb.org/lecture-registration/>

Questions? Please contact Emma Forman Emma.forman@childrens.harvard.edu 617-355-5021

The Faculty Fellowships were supported, in part, by a multi-institutional grant from the Josiah Macy, Jr. Foundation (William Branch, Jr., MD, MACP as PI; Elizabeth Rider, MSW, MD as site PI).

Our sponsors & co-sponsors

Office of Graduate Medical Education

Nursing /Patient Care at Boston Children's Hospital

Academy for Teaching &
Educational Innovation & Scholarship

Department of Social Work

